A special week for traffic safety

Governor Ronald Reagan recently proclaimed the week of Sept. 24-30 as "California Traffic Safety Week." During this week city and county agencies are stressing the year-long effort to reduce the number of traffic and pedestrian fatalities. Pictured above is one of our busiest traffic areas, Campbell at Harrison avenue.

Apartment rental discrimination to be discussed

By PAT SAFFORD

Does prejudice exist in apartment rental policies in Campbell?

This question will be explored in a study session by city councilmen on Wednesday, Oct. 17, and members of the community will be invited to attend and speak to this issue.

The session begins at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers, 75 N. Central ave.

At the first council meeting in September, City Attorney J. Robert Dempster was directed to prepare an ordinance for consideration by councilmen which would license apartment houses. Funds from this licensing would be used to enforce non-discrimination in rental units in the city.

Citing the court fight now going on in Palo Alto over enforcement of such a licensing ordinance, Dempster said at the Monday night council meeting, "I do not see any reason why we should get involved at this time." He further advised that Campbell should wait until the issue has been "refined by use of the courts."

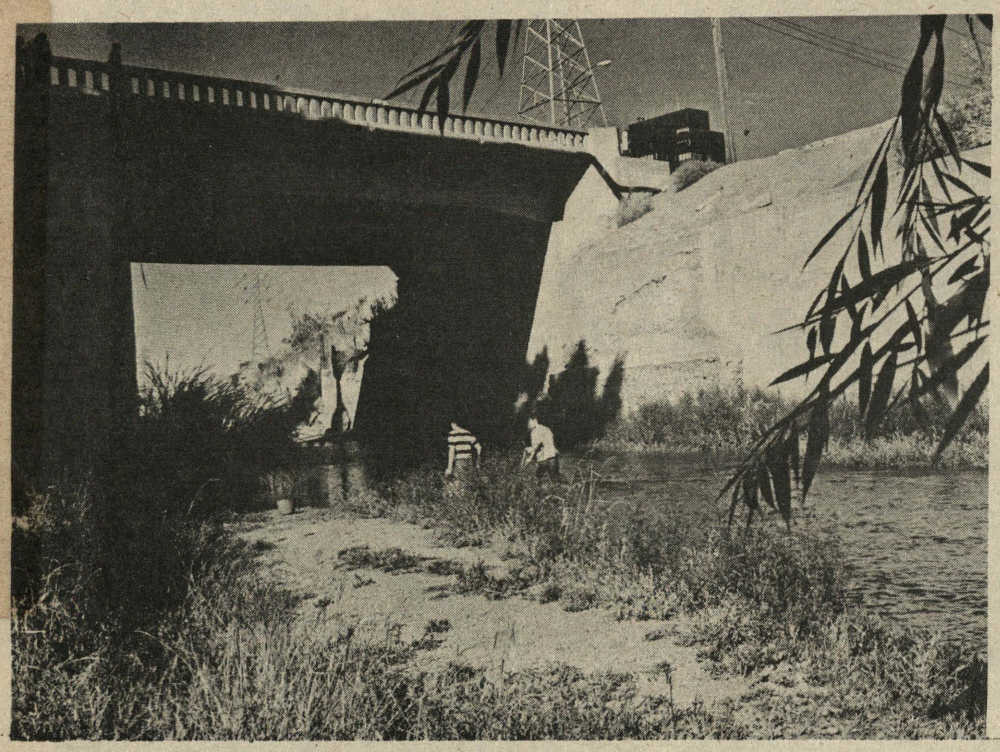
Further, Dempster stated, officials should see if the problem of discrimination actually exists in Campbell.

Proving racial discrimination has proved to be very difficult, the City Attorney continued, in test cases in other jurisdictions.

Councilman Rusty Hammer countered with the statement that he felt, "we've fallen into two traps," on the issue of discrimination. First, he said, we're assuming that discrimination is not a problem in Campbell. Second, he continued, officials have been discussing racial prejudice.

All types of discrimination, including sex and economic status, are covered by the ordinance, he said.

By a 3-2 vote the council declared the October study session to explore this area. Councilmen Hammer, William Podgorsek and Norman Paul voted for the session with Mayor Dean Chamberlin and Councilman Ralph Doetsch opposed.



PLANS TO develop Los Gatos creek from Campbell avenue to Kirk dam are moving ahead. The Los Gatos creek committee announced the project at a meeting last week.

Within the year

Los Gatos creek work to begin

Work is expected to begin on the Los Gatos creek development in Campbell within the next year, it was announced at a meeting last week.

The Los Gatos creek committee recently held a public meeting at Campbell city hall to give a status report on the project and to seek suggestions from the public for how the creek area should be developed.

Funds have now been allocated by the city of Campbell, county flood control and county parks and recreation department.

Flood control is now drawing up a joint powers agreement for a master plan and irrigation plan for the area.

First work will be done on the area from Campbell avenue to Kirk dam (located some 2,000 feet upstream of the San Tomas expressway crossing).

Plantings along the creek will be the responsibility of the individual cities. Campbell's area is from the creek's juncture with Campbell avenue to the Camden avenue crossing.

An executive committee began meeting last week to draw up plans to be presented to county flood control in early October.

The committee includes: Bill Wren, Campbell public works director; Dick Simon, county parks and recreation department, and George Korbay from the county flood control district.

Edith Morley, a member of the city's parks and recreation commission, originated the project idea over six years ago. Delays in implementing the project were caused, for the most part, by property owners along the creek bank. The city had to secure accordance of these property owners before the project could get underway.

Total area to be developed will include the entire length of the creek from Mozart avenue, to Lexington dam.

In 1972-73, according to Mrs. Morley, Campbell earmarked $4,500, plus an additional $500 as "seed money" to enable the committee to apply for federal funding for the project. A grant of $10,000 was received, she said, plus an additional $24,500 budgeted by the city out of federal revenue sharing funds this year, to make a total of $34,500 available for the project.

At the meeting, Bob Bryant from the city of Los Gatos reported that the neighboring community has encountered problems in acquiring access from property owners along the creek. The development area between Saratoga avenue and Blossom Hill road was recently approved in concept by the city council, he said.

"Vegetation is not a problem for us," Bryant continued, "the problem is funds." Los Gatos does not have any funds allocated for the project at present.

Comments from the audience at the hearing related to the Los Gatos area. Several homeowners, with homes bordering the creek, attended to voice concern over plans for that area. One man told the committee he felt homeowners needed assurances as to the actual use of the creek area before they might look favorably upon any lease arrangement. Two men living in a trailer park near the creek commented on the problem of motorcyclists using the creek now.

Committee chairman George Kane assured the men that only bicycle and hiking trails are being planned for the development at this time.

Another Los Gatos resident wanted to know when trees would be planted along the San Tomas expressway spillway, terming the area the "Suez canal" of Campbell.

"This is what we don't want in our area," he said.

George Korbay, of the flood control district, said plans are now moving ahead for plantings along the spillway area.

70-year-old injured in duel with police

Improving today at Valley Medical center is the 70-year-old San Jose man who was shot three times by police last week after he allegedly fired at officers.

Frank Kessell, 3206 Impala drive, San Jose was wounded twice in the legs and once in the arm last Wednesday after he reportedly opened fire on arresting officers at his home.

According to reports Kessell was involved in a traffic mishap in the parking lot of U-Save liquors, corner of Rosemary avenue and Winchester boulevard earlier that evening.

Kessell is alleged to have threatened another man saying he was going to get his gun and "take care of him."

When officers arrived at Kessell's home reports say the man opened fire. Police returned the fire and Kessell was wounded.

LONG GREY LINE . . . This scene was repeated throughout the county last week as service stations curtailed their hours and many shutdown entirely Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Close to 85 per cent of Campbell stations supported the nationwide protest over price controls. The few local stations operating had long lines of cars waiting to fill up. Traffic along local streets was normal over the weekend.

Leave your garbage and they'll pick it up—free!

This Friday, Sept. 28, trucks from the Green Valley disposal company will be conducting their semi-annual free rubbish collection within the city limits of Campbell. The free service is being offered to customers of the company.

All debris has to be on the curb before 7 a.m. Friday morning. If there is no curb near the home the debris should be placed in front near the sidewalk. If the property has access to an alleyway and this is the regular collection location, place debris in the same location.

Trimmings must be bundled into four-foot lengths and all other debris should be in boxes or mental containers light enough for one man to carry.

No items such as furniture, appliances, rocks or dirt will be picked up.

If an old trash can or garbage container need removal, place a note on it requesting it be removed.

120-day interim zoning approved by council

Interim zoning was approved Monday night for the area of Campbell bounded by Hamilton avenue, Winchester boulevard, Kennedy avenue and Highway 17.

By a 4-1 vote city councilmen adopted the ordinance which states "no use of any land, building or other structure, shall hereafter be established or conducted, and no present use of land, building or other structure shall hereafter be extended or enlarged and no building or structure shall hereafter be erected, constructed, moved, converted, remodeled or altered unless and until a permit has first been obtained from the city council.

Voting in favor of the new zoning district were Mayor Dean Chamberlin and Councilmen Norman Paul, William Podgorsek and Rusty Hammer. Opposed was Councilman Ralph Doetsch.

The new ordinance, effective immediately, will be in force for 120 days. The zoning may be extended for a period of eight months with a provision for a further extension of one year if approved by the council.

In other business the council:

- Took a stand officially opposing state proposition 1 by a vote of 4-1, opposed by Mayor Chamberlin. Presentations were made to the council by League of Women Voters member Rosanne H. Seratti of Campbell and Kermit L. Smith, a member of Santa Clara county residents against proposition 1.
- Did not act on a recommendation for a sign ordinance for signs oriented to Highway 17 and the Los Gatos creek area. After a discussion which included a statement by Jeanette Watson, chairman of the civic improvement commission, Councilman Podgorsek made a motion to revert to the sign policy which existed previously for the area: complete prohibition of signs along the freeway. The motion was seconded by Paul but was voted down 3-2 with Chamberlin, Hammer and Doetsch opposed.
- Approved three expenditures from federal revenue sharing funds. The first, police public safety equipment, includes cost of hand guns, holsters and other equipment for the city police department. The council authorized expenditures of up to $15,000.

Emergency operating center equipment was authorized by councilmen. Up to $3,500 may be spent for equipment to enable the emergency operating center staff to conduct simulated emergency exercises.

A 1.81 acre parcel adjoining Rincon park will be acquired by the city for $50,500. The property is at the southern portion of the park fronting on Budd avenue. The motion to authorize the city to enter into an agreement to purchase the land passed by a vote of 4-1. Opposition came from Mayor Chamberlin who said he felt he had to 'put on his black hat.' "I feel this is more than our city can afford at this stage," he said.

- Continued an ordinance amending title 17 of the Campbell municipal code covering fire protection.
- Unanimously denied a claim for damages from Pacific telephone and telegraph company for an estimated $1,200 in damages to underground facilities on Hamilton near Central avenue in August. The claim was referred to the city's insurance carrier.
- Adopted an ordinance relating to abandoned vehicles.
- Denied, without prejudice, the appeal of Ralph Beauchamp for a zone change at 328 Bedal lane.
- Set three additional study sessions. The first, on Oct. 1, will be a session on consideration of transit occupancy tax and franchising the right to distribute water in the city, possible acquisition of the Campbell water company and the city's position on the future West Valley freeway.

Nov. 7 will be a study session on intergovernmental relations and Nov. 19 on social and human relations.

All sessions begin at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers, 75 N. Central ave. and are open to the public.

College trustees in opposition to senate bill

West Valley college trustees took a stand opposing SB 716, which would require public disclosure of assets held by elected and appointed public officials, at their recent meeting on the Saratoga campus.

In opposing the bill, authored by Senator George Moscone, trustee William Cikler said that those people who run for and are elected to school boards do so because they are interested citizens, and not because they are interested in financial regards.

"The bill would do more harm than good," Cikler said, "in that it would discourage interested parties from seeking election."

In other business the governing board:

• Approved formation of a supervisory training consortium with San Jose city college.

• Approved two non-graded, non-credit classes for adults: nature photography and a volunteer income tax assistance training workshop.

• Directed the superintendent to formally request that the major public circulation road serving Mission college in Santa Clara be called Mission College boulevard (or Mission boulevard as an alternative).

• Directed a proposal for sale of a small piece of the Saratoga campus back to the superintendent for further study. Ray H. Wood of Short Hill court had asked to purchase a 450 square foot piece of property bordering his land for aesthetic purposes.

50th high school reunion; a few changes since then

OVER 100 attended the 50th reunion of Campbell high school recently at a San Jose night spot. Celebrating were, from left, Marian Jenkins and Lois Gardner.

"THE TIME PRUNE season was over determined when school opened," said Erma Saunders, class of '23, "one year, we didn't start school until October."

Mrs. Saunders was one of 114 Campbell high school students from the classes of 1923, 1924, 1925 and 1926 who celebrated their 50th reunion last week.

Organized by Milt Nelson and a committee of 13 members of the four graduating classes the reunion was termed "the nicest we ever had."

Graduates came from Oregon, Nevada and Southern California, as well as a few who still reside in Campbell. Among those attending were Judge Vern Sawyer of Manteca, Ralph Noddin of Healdsburg, former Campbell high school teacher and coach; Dr. Harold Cramer of Los Altos, and Bill Murphy, a trustee in the Campbell union high school district.

THE GROUP MET at the San Jose Hyatt House for cocktails, dinner and an evening of conversation.

Special guest at the celebration was John Leonard, class of 1903, who drove up from Pacific Grove for the event.

Mrs. Saunders recalled the Campbell high school she knew 50 years ago. "We didn't have dances then," she said, "because our principal, D. H. Cramer, was a good Methodist and he was against dancing."

For entertainment the youngsters went to the movies but other activities were limited. "They rolled up the sidewalks at 8 p.m. then," Erma laughed.

Campbell high had no football team then but did well with their baseball and basketball teams. Foreign language study was offered in Spanish and Latin only.

IN 1923 the school's first gym was built by students, Mrs. Saunders said, with the help of a carpenter. That year Campbell grammar school opened, she said, and Campbell's senior play was the first performance in the new school auditorium. The play was titled, "Come Out of the Kitchen."

Members of the committee who organized the reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. Dave Saunders and Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy, class of 1923; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blaine and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Steindorf, class of 1924; Mr. and Mrs. Milt Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bonaccorso, class of 1925; and Phoebe Davis, class of 1926.

When do they plan another reunion? "In 1975," Erma said.

The fiberglass convertible hard top stolen was valued at over $350.

OUT ON THE LIMB

with George Vierhus

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Vierhus is on vacation. Guest columnist for this week is Homer Hyde, general manager of the Campbell Water co., and chairman of the Bay Area Regional Water Quality Control board. Hyde is a former mayor of Campbell and a long-time member of the planning commission.)

It is a pleasure to try to substitute for George in his column and somewhat of a chore for one who is not used to writing for public "consumption." To simplify the task, I will hold to a subject which I, as manager of the Campbell Water co., deal with daily; namely, water.

WEBSTER DEFINES WATER as "the liquid which in a more or less unpure state constitutes rain, oceans, lakes, rivers, etc. and which in a pure state is a transparent, odorless, tasteless liquid, a compound of Hydrogen (11 per cent) and Oxygen (89 per cent).

Water utilities of the US, it is estimated, now supply our home, stores, offices and industries with over 20 billion gallons per day. (To visualize this, imagine a volume of water 10 feet deep covering an area about 10 miles wide by 20 miles long).

The national average is 155 gallons daily for every man, woman and child. In less than two days the tonnage of this water exceeds the total production of the nation's steel industry for an entire year!

To get the commercial over with, water has to be the biggest bargain in the family budget. It costs about 10 cents a ton or for $10 you get 21,750 gallons!

The priceless benefits of a modern water supply system bring to your community:

- health and safety from water born diseases,
- fire protection from adequate supply and dispersion capabilities for lower insurance rates.
- modern conveniences in the form of home appliances.
- recreation in larger reservoirs.
- economic wealth through commerce and industry.

Water is indispensible to life, yet with all these and more benefits, it is one of the conveniences so taken for granted.

In 1960, while notifying customers on a street that the water would be off for a period of time for repair, one person replied, "Oh that's all right, I drink tea!"

THE STRANGEST property of water is that it expands when it freezes to form ice. All other substances, except one, bismuth, contract when they go from a liquid or gaseous state to a solid state. And it's a good thing too. If water contracted in freezing it would sink to the bottom as it froze in winter, and stay there. Very little ice would melt in the spring because it would be on the bottom protected from the sun. Soon all the rivers, lakes, oceans and other bodies of water would be mostly ice in the cooler parts of the world. The great ocean currents that transfer heat from hot areas to colder ones would not exist and the tropics would become hotter and the rest of the world a desert of ice, making our planet unliveable!!!

Which reminds me of a joke about a man who died from "hard" water — a cake of ice fell on his head.

BECAUSE GROUND water is out of sight few of us realize its importance. Some 1,500 cubic miles of water fall on the US each year; about half evaporates, a quarter flows off the surface, and the rest enters the underground. The quantity of water in the ground is tremendous. In the first 100 feet below the surface of the entire country there is probably an average of 17 feet of water. In the Santa Clara valley, ground water supplies about 70 per cent of the total water consumed.

Practically all surface water and ground water must be either-and-or pumped, treated, softened, cleaned, filtered, disinfected and tested continuously.

You heard what the water said as it passed through the filter? "I hope I made my self perfectly clear!"

THE PROBLEMS of water supply go hand in hand with sewage disposal. Without adequate facilities for sewage disposal, existing water supplies would gradually become polluted.

Pollution of streams and bodies of water by dischargers have caused home water suppliers to go long distances for adequate quality water. Up to 95 per cent of the water that is purified and distributed to users must be disposed of as sewage.

SPEAKING OF POLLUTION: major progress has been made, regardless of negative conclusions the following headlines seem to suggest:

"Bay cleanup efforts falling short". That was in the San Jose News. The article did go on to say that the quantity of sewage is enormous and that pollution increases have more than offset efforts to clean up the region's sewage and industrial waste. It did not elaborate on the word "efforts."

"Bay getting more foul" in the Oakland Tribune explained that despite efforts, the bay is getting dirtier. Way down in the article, it states that, "the report does not pretend to be a thorough-going analysis of the problem nor to offer any system of recommendations."

"Wastewater treatment plan earns sharp criticism" was a Tribune editorial. It explained that the pollutant load was increasing despite efforts and the new improved wastewater treatment plants. Again "efforts" was not spoken to.

These articles were very upsetting to a lot of people; especially members of the water quality control boards who have worked long and hard in an effort toward solving the problem.

The connotation of "no progress" in cleaning up the water of the San Francisco Bay was inaccurate and misleading to say the least.

They were the result of a report on the "Review of wastewater problem and waste water management planning in the San Francisco Bay region" by the United States Department of Interior geological survey. The report stated the problem of increasing pollution loads, identified their various sources, and quite accurately attributed their magnitude to continuing population growth, economic growth and urban development. It states, "as might be expected, the total volume of wastewater has increased in a trend paralleling this growth and development."

AT THE TIME of writing (1972) there was approximately 880 mgd (million gallons per day) being discharged from identifiable sources in the Bay Area and they contained all the known pollutants, (quoting from a 1970 report).

Projections indicated a two fold increase to 1.5 billion gallons per day by 2,020 based on population projections of a 1969 report.

AS YOU MAY have surmised, the report was a compilation of various studies and reports, and all the reports used were at that time (1972) completed ones.

Therefore, the facts are a review of 1967-71 vintage materials. To quote the report: "the work (report) was done during 1971 and 1972 under the general direction, etc." This is 1973. Much of the groundwork — comprehensive wastewater management planning, including wastewater dischage relocation, consolidation of smaller facilities, and re-use and reclamation studies and pilot projects have been done — the facts gathered are not true today!

SINCE 1969 through fiscal 72-73, $227 million worth of projects have been made eligible in this region and much of these "improvements" are just completed or will be completed in the very near future. The decisions, design and construction of major wastewater facilities takes time. A lot of it. The desired direction and achievement is just around the corner, and getting closer with each year's budget from federal, state and local sources.

The 1973-74 eligible projects authorized amounts to $300,000,000 which is more than the previous four years combined.

That many dollars staggers my imagination and so far our big "uncle" hasn't come up with that kind of money. For sure, the local communities can't afford to do it — so — how does the pollution load get decreased? When the people through their government pay for it. Within this constraint, good progress is being made.

• • •

IN CONCLUSION, although water is the most common and abundant material on the face of the earth, few of us realize the extent to which it is constantly being created and destroyed chemically. Every bit of carbohydrate and protein formed by living plants and creatures includes hydrogen and oxygen which have come from the chemical destruction of water.

Every fire of organic matter, every explosion in an automobile cylinder, even every cigarette puff combines hydrogen with oxygen to make new water. Both chemically and physically, water is the busiest compound known to man and the most important.

When speaking in such grand terms, one thinks of Texas:

Joe (looking at Niagara Falls): "Got anything like that in Texas?"

Texan: "No, not that I know of; but we've got a plumber who could fix that leak in 10 minutes."

Interim zoning a major step

The city council has approved interim zoning for that area of Campbell between Hamilton avenue on the north, Kennedy avenue on the south, and between Winchester boulevard and Highway 17.

Such a zoning will be in effect for 120 days.

We are heartily in accord with this action because now it seems a certainty that there will be some definite action along the loop system front this fiscal year and we think it is highly important that developments are compatible with the "loops."

The 120-day interim zone period will allow the city planning staff to make a comprehensive study of the area to determine what type of zoning should be in effect when the loop system is operating.

Approximately $64,000 has been set aside from gas tax funds for the fiscal year to be used for the acquisition of properties for rights-of-way along the loops and the section of the loop street past the new library is estimated to cost about $37,400. That means then that more than $100,000 during this next fiscal year has been earmarked for the loop system.

That, of course, is only a small portion of the total cost of the project which is expected to exceed $1 million without the Campbell avenue-highway 17 interchange which has been considered part of the overall picture for a number of years.

Yet the $100,000 to be spent is a landmark in the history of the downtown loop system that was officially adopted in concept and the plan lines set in 1968.

It is the first major step that has been taken and we sincerely hope from now on continued progress will be made and the downtown loop system will become a fact rather than a dream.

Interim zoning does not mean building must come to a standstill. It is not a moratorium. It simply means a special permit must be obtained for any new development and the plans approved by the city council and planning commission.

There is no question in our mind but that the loop system, along with the civic center and the "Factory," will make a tremendous impact on the community, especially the so-called downtown core.

We think it is imperative that guidelines be established and we commend the city council and planning commission for recognizing this fact.

The former Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Smith of Oakland. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hart of Madoc way, San Jose.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a victorian style of gown of white sate d' peau accented with peau d' ange lace. She carried a bouquet of carnations, roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Karen Elizabeth Wagner attended her as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sue Smith, the bride's sister, Debi Hart, the groom's sister, and Marcy Smith and Mil Kalinovich. A reception at the Brazilian room in Tilden Park followed the ceremony.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of the University of California at Davis where she received a bachelor of science degree in child development. She is a past honored queen of Bethel 73 of the International Order of Job's Daughters.

Michael is a pre-med student at the University of California at Davis. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and a member of the Professional baseball players association.

Trash bag sales will help children

EDITOR:

For the past several months the Campbell Jaycees have been involved in a project soliciting the sale of trash liner bags in the Campbell community. This solicitation has been handled by the use of telephone contacts with the labor being supplied by an outside firm, "Specialists inc."

The fund raised through the sale of these bags go into the construction of an Orthopedic Hospital for the children suffering from birth defects of the extremities. The hospital is being built in Mexico just across the border. "Project Amigo" has been adopted by the California Jaycees as a statewide project in an attempt to raise $250,000 over a three-year period.

Although the Campbell Jaycees contribution to Project Amigo will be small individually, the California Jaycees are confident that collectively the task of raising the funds necessary will not present a problem if we all help.

In as much as the Campbell Jaycees are a third party in the actual solicitation and presentation of the product, I feel a responsibility to the community to dispell any concern as to the legitimacy of the program.

I hope this explanation will satisfy the inquiries directed to me over the past several weeks. It should be noted that this project will continue periodically throughout the year; and further we are pleased to report, in the first month of solicitation a substantial amount of merchandise was ordered.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the concerned citizens of Campbell for their support and to request that when calls are received concerning Project Amigo, that you give it your sincere consideration.

If further information is necessary, please don't hesitate to call me.

Gymnastics school expresses thanks

EDITOR:

I just wanted to drop you a line and let you know how much we appreciate the interest the staff at the Campbell Press has shown in our girl's gymnastics school.

The fine articles you ran on our school have helped us reach an enrollment of over 70 girls after only two weeks of operation, thus insuring that we will be able to continue to serve the gymnastics needs of the community.

We strongly feel that community involvement is a must for a business such as ours and we therefore wish to express our thanks for your assistance.

I'm sure that from time to time we will be sponsoring exhibitions and meets, so we will try our best to keep you posted on current gymnastics events in the area. A peek at the Northern California calendar indicates many exciting events being planned for this season, including visits to the Bay Area by a Canadian team, a Japanese team and possibly the East German second place Olympic team, along with other events such as the Junior national championships being held in Hayward. It should prove to be quite a year.

Thanks again and please feel free to drop by anytime; I think you will be surprised at how the gym has changed since you were last there.

Teachers should have release time

EDITOR:

In a letter to the Campbell union school district board of trustees, the West Valley federation of teachers, AFT Local 1953, AFL-CIO, indicated its strong support of the certificated employee council (CEC) and its position regarding release time for executive officers of the Campbell elementary teachers association. The board of trustees has refused to grant release time of one-half day each for two CETA officers for organizational work, though they have granted this right for the past four years.

The district trustees, in discontinuing release-time, stated, as one of its reasons, that the provision is discriminatory against smaller teacher groups which cannot afford to pay the half-time salary of the released teacher.

The district's teachers are well aware of the concern the board majority has for the rights of teacher organizations. Thus, though we are not in a position to provide the community and the district with the services which release time makes possible, the teachers' union supports the position of the association on this issue.

The philosophy of WVFT-AFT is that teacher organizations should be represented by teachers rather than by paid staff. We believe the CETA shares this view. By refusing to permit an organization to use presently-teaching personnel to represent teachers, the board is forcing that organization to employ full-time paid staff to the detriment of the district and the teachers. To revoke a practice which costs the district nothing and benefits teachers, students, and the community might well be interpreted as a vindictive action against teacher groups which have opposed certain board members in the past, rather than as an effort to protect the rights of minority organizations.

Though we commend the board majority for its position with regard to teacher groups, we would point out that no teacher group has opposed the release time procedure. We urge the board to reconsider its position and to continue a practice which has proved to be of value to the entire school community.

Secretary, WVFT

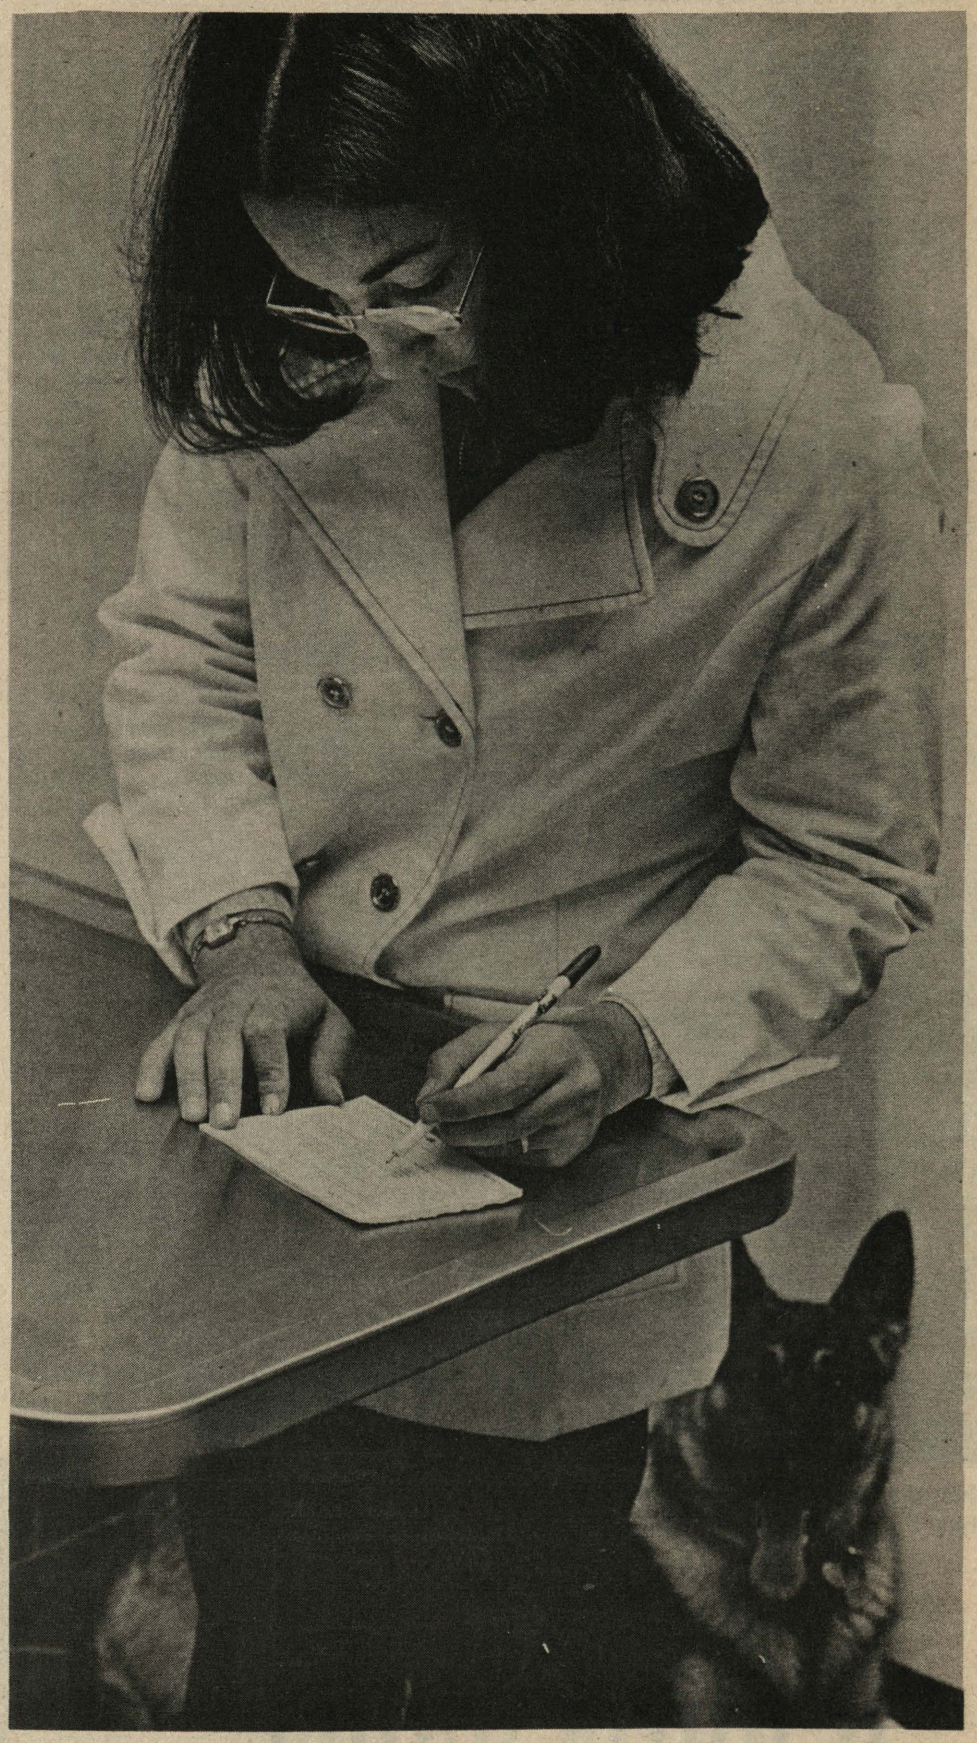
Clinic slows animal population explosion



Before the vet did anything, I had to give my permission. Heidi obviously had no idea what I was getting her into.

By SUE FAGALDE

IT ALL BEGAN two weeks ago when we took the first step toward having our German shepherd, Heidi, spayed through the Santa Clara county spay-neuter clinic.

One hot afternoon I filled out the necessary papers indicating that my fiance gave me permission to have Heidi spayed, an operation that would prevent her from having puppies, and paid my $20. At home I called the hospital number they gave me and got an appointment. I later learned two weeks is the usual waiting period.

The next step was a reassuring talk with Neal Bohnet, chief of animal control. The low-cost county spay-neuter clinic was opened Sept. 5, 1972, he told me, because "the animal population explosion is really for real. It is disheartening to put a perfectly healthy animal to sleep simply because he is unwanted."

Bohnet was particularly aggravated by mothers who let their pets have babies so that their children could witness the "miracle of birth." They never seemed to realize that "it inevitably comes to the miracle of death. The main objective of the clinic is to eliminate unwanted pets," said Bohnet.

The clinic charged $20 to spay a dog or cat, $15 to neuter a dog and $10 to neuter a cat. This fee, I was told, did not cover the cost by any means, since it cost $17.50 just to administer anesthetic.

AT LEAST 20 spays and neuters a day are performed at a local animal hospital which would prefer its name not be mentioned because of trouble with the veterinary association and confusion with the hospital's regular clients. Although the cost is considerably less than most private vets charge, Bohnet stressed "everything is first class and A-1, with the best, most modern facilities."

The chief of animal control assured me that spaying or neutering makes a dog or cat an "all-around better pet." They get in less fights and females run much less risk of breast cancer and no risk of uterine cancer. That they get fat is an "old wives tale," he said, concluding, "It's a major operation, but they don't seem to suffer."

When we got to the animal hospital, Heidi took one look and got back in the car. It was bad enough going without food and water for 12 hours, but here she was at 8 o'clock in the morning clear on the other side of the valley.

Every bit of obedience training was forgotten as we joined the other dogs in the waiting room. At the desk, I was handed a paper collar to put around her neck, and I sat down with her as far away from the crowd as possible. As I struggled to remove a mass of hair I got caught in the stick-um on the collar, Heidi made friends with the dog next door.

THE MAN NEXT to me had a terrier, and Heidi was curled up beside me on the couch, unconsciously endangering a large planter behind her. Soon she was stretching across me getting acquainted. Heidi licked the other dog, he licked Heidi, Heidi licked his master, and the other dog licked me. About that time, somebody called for Heidi Barnard, which sounded strangely unfamiliar. Somehow I had never thought of her as Heidi Barnard.

We were met by a veterinarian's assistant who examined Heidi, checking for problems that would prevent surgery. She needed and was given a booster shot for distemper. Had she been recently in heat, eaten less than 12 hours ago, been grossly overweight or sick, she would have been sent home, but she checked out on all counts and was given a tranquilizer shot. Actually I was more scared than she was and could have used a tranquilizer myself.

We were escorted to her "room," a large cage with room to run, and the assistant handed me Heidi's leash, choke-chain and flea collar. I felt like a traitor and worried about what would happen if the paper collar came off.

Photographer Gordon Lew and I were given a tour of the hospital. We saw the intensive care unit, which was empty, and visited a ward where the smaller animals stayed. Most of them were eager to talk to us, especially a black cat blood donor named Eldridge Cleaver.

We went through the pharmacy, X-ray and surgery rooms, marveling at how clean and shining everything was. All the latest equipment was there. Actually it looked better than most people hospitals. Finally I was led to the conference room to talk to the doctor and wait for surgery to begin.

HEIDI WOULD BE shaved, I was told, from the V at the bottom of the rib cage to her haunches, although the incision would only be 3-4 inches long. She would be given anesthetic, and surgery would be performed. The doctor was quite willing to let me watch, but surgery started late that morning, and I didn't have the stomach for it, so I let photographer Gordon capture the action.

She would be dismissed the next day, and the vet warned me that she would feel quite normal and I would have to restrain her from too much activity. Has he ever tried to hold down an 80-pound German shepherd? I wondered. After 10 days, I'd have to bring her back to remove the steel sutures.

As soon as I left the hospital, I began missing Heidi. I went crazy over every animal I saw. My poor cat couldn't understand why I was suddenly so affectionate.

The next morning I got lost three times on the freeway on the way to the hospital. I was so nervous I could hear my heart pounding as I waited for her to be brought out. What if something had gone wrong? Then I saw her dragging the attendant down the hall, and I knew she was alright. She was all motion, immediately rushing to the outside door while I tried to slip her choke-chain on.

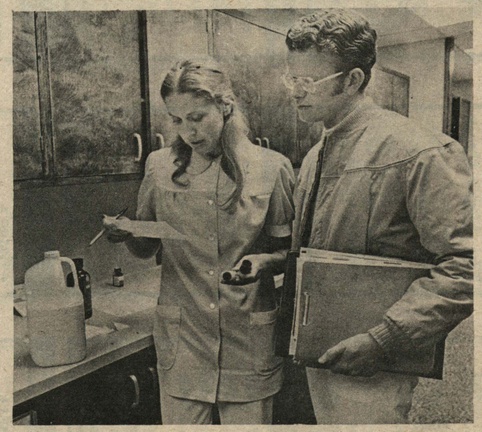
When we got home, Heidi promptly jumped up on the couch and curled up with her head on a pillow looking pitiful. Now and then she would groan or whine as if trying to tell me about her terrible experience.

When Jim arrived, however, Heidi jumped off the couch, cured. Her bare belly looked funny, but her appetite was amazingly healthy. Off she went to persecute the cat and we knew she would be okay.

Already groggy on tranquilizer, Heidi is anesthetized so that she will feel nothing during surgery.

A worried-looking dog is getting his heart checked. All animals who appear ill or are over five years old are checked out thoroughly before surgery.

This male cat isn't too thrilled about being neutered. Although his eyes are open, he can't feel a thing.



A veterinarian's assistant and county educator Charles Wilson discuss the progress of the clinic where over 5000 pets have been spayed or neutered since last September.

On the hot corner

Sports Editor

"There was a young lady named Kelly, who wore a red jewel in her belly . . ."

Remember the way the dirty limericks used to start? Always the same format, but the words were changed to incriminate the guilty (and provide a chuckle).

Where most of the limericks, probably thought up by dirty old men (and women) with time on their hands, were often crude and unseemly, not many had much to do with sports.

Well, I've come up with a few limericks of my own (one day when I had time on my hands) and some of them were even clean enough to publish!

Just to set the theme:
One school is the same as the rest to us and we do not jest;
some think we show favor
but we seldom waver, in our try to do our prep best!

And then there's:
There once was a pitcher named Gaylord,
whose ways went a little bit wayward;
he went to the spitter to get just one hitter and he picked up the Cy Young award!

Oh, certainly you remember Gaylord Perry of San Francisco Giant fame. But the local pros have made more than one questionable trade:

The Alou boys are three of the best,
when it comes to a true baseball test;
And fans should be quite bitter, after losing such hitters —
'cause they all should still be in the west!

But a new Giant is on the scene and might help fans forget some of the bad trades of the past. His debut, however, proved a bit embarrassing:

Ontiveros sported quite a big grin,
when he ripped his first hit in a win;
but they started to scoff,
when he got picked off,
and Steve was quite red in the end!

A few years ago the pro football field was the site of embarrassment for one Minnesota Viking:

An end named Marshall was gay,
when he picked off a pass on a play;
but his teammates did moan
when he reached the endzone, because the Viking had run the wrong way!

That was many years ago now, though, and most may not even remember the play that was very profitable for our own SF 49'ers. So for those who aren't keen on sports history, how about some limericks about today's stars:

There was a young boxer named Roman,
who thought himself more than a yeoman;
he wanted a crack
at the best in the pack,
but fell to a right smash by Foreman!

Or, how about:
There once was a netman named Riggs,

who was one of the top males in the bigs;
but when he stopped winning,
he kept them all grinning,
as sport's top chauvinist pig!

And there's always:
Mighty Snoopy had fought the Red Baron, before hittin' home runs really darin';
but when Charlie was nailed,
the dog really wailed,
'cause he failed in his chance to catch Aaron.

Or maybe you haven't been following the HR surge of the famous Snoopy in the "Peanuts" cartoon strip. Charlie Brown was picked off second just when the Beagle had a chance to top Aaron in home runs — "good grief".

Not to be left out, I want to give basketball equal time with a little ditty about Los Angeles Laker center, er, National Basketball Association center, er, basketball center, Wilt Chamberlain:

There was a bold cager named Wilt,
who baffled refs to the hilt;
but what can they do,
when he starts to argue,
because Wilt is a giant who's built!

But maybe now the Chamberlain limerick should be:
Big Wilt is quite a key Laker,
if '73 is a championship maker;
but if he takes the leap to the ABA heap,
the Warriors will be the west taker.

So it would seem that not all limericks are unacceptable in the parlor — but you better leave the "young lady named Kelly" in the lockerroom where she belongs!

MHAL crystal ball clears

Our crystal ball began to clear up a little last week. After a terrible first week of predictions (5-5), we bounced back with a 4-1 week.

This week the big game in the Mt. Hamilton athletic league should be between Milpitas and Lick at San Jose city college Friday night at 7:30 p.m. The Pats will win a close one with their wishbone offense by three points.

Mt. Pleasant will bounce back from last week's loss to Lick by dumping Hill by 10 points at PAL stadium Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Samuel Ayer will register their first win of 1973 Friday in a 3 p.m. home contest against the Royals, a game they will win by three.

Oak Grove will thump Yerba Buena by seven to keep their '73 ledger unblemished Saturday night at SJCC in another 7:30 p.m. contest.

And finally, Silver Creek will edge the low scoring Piedmont Hills Pirates by seven in a 7:30 p.m. tilt at PAL.

Broncs open home slate with Davis

The home schedule for the 1973 season will begin Saturday night for the Santa Clara university Broncos when they play host to the University of California at Davis in a 7:30 p.m. ballgame at Buck Shaw stadium.

The game will be the first of two home games in a row for SCU. Next week the Broncs will play host to Nevada of Reno in a Saturday night game. Both games will be broadcast over KPEN-FM (98).

Junior Mike Nott, 6-2 and 215, should get the starting nod at quarterback again for SCU with running back Don Dunbar, Milpitas junior, and fullback Alex Damascus supplying the majority of the running punch.

sun sports

Nott had completed 10 of 23 passes for 162 yards while Damascus and Dunbar had accounted for over 80 per cent of the Santa Clara ground game after their first two games.

Damascus leads SCU rushing with 27 carries for 90 yards and a 3.3 per carry mark. Dunbar has 31 running tries for 70 yards and a 2.3 average.

Despite its 49.7 loss at Texas stadium to Southern Methodist university, Santa Clara played very well in spots against the big and potent Mustangs.

"The score was truly not indicative of the game," coach Pat Malley said. "We gave them three touchdowns on big plays early and had to play catch-up football the rest of the way."

The SCU mentor praised the play of his defensive corps, which did a job containing SMU inside.

Standing out on defense for Santa Clara were Steve Mattos, Mike Fleming, Ron Czarnecki and Tom Gallo.

Offensively, the work of tackle Ken Allen, tight end Wayne Samarzich and Tim Cashman was impressive along with the running of Clint Hill, Damascus and Dunbar.

Santa Clara, with the only real scoring drive of the game, marched 80 yards in 11 plays to tally its only TD when Nott hit Samarzich with a four-yard aerial strike. The key play was a 54-yard Nott pass to Cashman.

Datsun drivers place ninth

Los Altos drivers captured a pair of ninth places at the Rough Rider Road Races held at Sears Point Raceway on Sept. 16.

Rob McFarlin, driving his Datsun 2000, placed in Race 5 and Ron Stansbury, also in a Datsun, made the top 10 in Race 7.

Gunman drops wrong bird

The cost of trap shooting went up sharply last month for one San Bernardino county man when he bagged the wrong kind of a bird.

Sgt. David M. Schroll of Norton Air Force base was getting ready to try his skill at busting some clay "birds" at a trap range in San Bernardino when a flight of doves appeared on the scene and flew across the range.

The temptation was too much.

When Sgt. Schroll dropped the lead bird with a perfect shot, one of the witnesses was off-duty fish and game warden Roger Laughlin, who promptly cited Schroll for taking a dove out of season.

When Schroll appeared before Highland Judicial District Judge Richard Bridges and pleaded guilty he was fined $65, with an additional $50 fine suspended for three years on condition he refrain from violating fish and game regulations during that period.

SUPER ATHLETE AND FRIEND — Scampering after her master is Ginger, the pet dog of blond speedster Steve Scott, San Jose's top wheelchair athlete. Scott will be attempting to swim 666 laps or 10 miles in De Anza college's pool Saturday in an effort to raise $10,000.

Scott top wheelchair athlete

Pan-Am Games $$ Swim-a-thon goal

Lima, Peru, and the Pan American wheelchair games are the targets Steve Scott will be aiming at Saturday.

The San Josean will be trying to raise money that day for his intended trip to Peru by attempting to swim 10 miles in De Anza college's pool.

Saturday, dubbed "Steve Scott Swim-a-thon Day" by the San Jose city council, who gave Scott $1,000 towards his goal of raising $10,000 through pledges.

Scott, a super athlete despite the fact he was crippled at birth with a bone disease in his legs, earned the right to compete in the Pan American games with his recent performance at the National wheelchair games in New York.

To get to New York he had to perform well at the Arizona state and California state games, where he won six gold medals in both. He was also named the outstanding athlete at each.

At the recent nationals in New York, Scott set four new wheelchair records. He set the new marks in the 50 yard free style, the 50 backstroke and the 50 breaststroke. He also was part of the San Jose Spinners relay team that also snapped a national record.

While he was a student at Foothill college he competed on the varsity swimming level and at one time ranked in the top 30 in the state for the 1,500 meter free on the junior college level.

But he lacks the money to pay his own way to Peru so he will try to earn it by doing what he does best — swimming.

Scott will try to swim 666 laps or 10 miles in the WVC pool for pre-pledged amounts of money.

Anyone interested in pledging money, a penny a lap is the most common pledge, may do so by making out a check to "Swim-a-thon" and sending it to "Swim-a-thon," 151 W. Mission st., room 203, San Jose, California (95110) or call Steve Owens at 578-2336.

Scott's goal of $10,000 is not entirely for himself. Should that much money be raised he would use one-third of it for his trip to Peru. Another one-third would be donated to the Santa Clara valley blind center's pre-school blind program and the final third would be used to promote the wheelchair games.

PAL coaches stress 'D'

It would seem as though many of the San Jose Police athletic league youth football coaches may be stressing defense — at least the winners.

A minimum of points were allowed by the victorious teams in action September 16 around PAL circles with 11 shut-outs bolstering that claim.

Only one TD was scored by losers in the Junior Bantam division and only three each were tallied against victors in the Junior Midget and Pee Wee classes. Eight were scored by six losers in the Midget group.

And while the defenses are allowing just a minimum of points, the offenses are proving quite prolific.

In Junior Bantam action, the Eastside Raiders crushed the Athletic Club of East San Jose Broncos 36-0, the ABOY Cowboys clobbered the Oak Grove Rebels 49-6, the Spartan Vikings killed the Gold Coast Warriors 34-0, the West Valley touchdown club Green Berets whitewashed the Knights 20-0, the Almaden Braves handled the Los Gatos-Saratoga Bengals 40-0 and the Monterey Packers edged the Lynbrook Prospect Black Rattlers 7-0.

Scores were much closer in Midget play. The Eastside Marauders and Almaden Warriors fought to a 6-6 tie, the Gold Rattlers snuck by the Spartan Trojans 8-7 and the Gold Knights nipped the LG-S Panthers 22-18 in the closest battles.

In other games, the Eastside Pirates took the ACESJ Mustangs 27-12, the ABOY Wranglers shut-out the Oak Grove Red Raiders 24-0 and the De Anza Lancers pounded the Gold Berets 44-6.

One-sided battles were the rule rather than the exception in Junior Midget play. Shut-outs were posted by the Silver Rattlers, 20-0 over the Eastside Bucaneers, the Oak Grove Renegades, 32-0 over the ABOY Mavericks, and the Almaden Indians, 20-0 over the Spartan Spartans. The Green Knights knocked off the LG-S Cougars 33-12 and the Red Berets topped the DAC Squires 19-6.

In the Pee Wee division, the Almaden Scouts whipped the Silver Berets 13-0, the White Rattlers smashed the Spartan Gladiators 26-0, the LG-S Bobcats handled the White Knights 27-6, the Oak Grove Ramblers won 27-7 over the ABOY Rangers and the Eastside Crusaders romped 20-6 over the ACESJ Colts.

Youth movement on Camden cross country

Relying heavily on their youngsters, the Camden Cougar cross-country team will break into West Valley athletic league action this week with a Thursday meet at Saratoga high.

"We'll have a real young team this year," admits Cougar head Bob Woods. "We'll be counting on our sophomores and juniors."

A sophomore will actually fill the number one role on the Camden varsity this season. Bob Paulin, who logged 739 miles run over the summer months, could rank as one of the top five runners in the WVAL this season according to Woods.

Juniors Tom Alarcon and Ray Ochoa, who each ran over 1,000 miles this past summer, will also be top varsity prospects at Camden this fall. Seniors Wayne Burdick and Fritz Moga, 502 miles over the summer, are others to be counted on heavily by the Cougars.

"It's hard to say who else could get into the top five," said Woods. "But I'd have to say with hard work we could finish second in the league."

Woods feels Camden will field a "pretty fair" sophomore even with Paulin on the varsity. Paul Cooper, 523 summer miles, and Jim Richardson, 534 miles, will lead the soph club.

"I foresee our team being very competitive this year and being even better next year," said the coach.

Two other top propsects are Russ Gibbons, a junior who ran 567 miles over the summer, and Larry Ryfe, a sophomore, and both should help the Camden youth movement.

Leading the Camden freshman team this fall will be Kevin Heilman, Ed Tico and Ken Snyder. Heilman was third in the county last year at Price junior high in the 100 yard dash at 10.3.

WVC whipped 53-28 by SJCC / Prolific Jags smash Vike gridders

For a team that has won the Camino Norte conference football title the past four years in a row, the West Valley Vikings are having their problems getting on the right track this year.

The Vikes, seeking to avenge a 36-14 loss they suffered to San Jose city college last year, instead suffered through their worst loss in WVC history, 53-28 at the hands of the Jags last Saturday night at SJCC.

The 53 points rung up by the Jags equalled the most a team has ever scored against a West Valley team. De Anza scored that many in a 53-41 win over West Valley in 1969. But the game was later awarded to West Valley after De Anza was forced to forfeit.

The 53 points marked only the third time in the Viking's nine year history that an opposing club had registered 50 or more points in a game.

West Valley, after seeing their pre-season ledger slip to 0-2, will try to find the winning formula before their CNC season starts at Santa Rosa next week.

The Vikes will try to pick up their first win of the year at Buck Shaw stadium Friday night against Ventura, in a game that gets underway at 7:30 p.m.

WVC holds a 2-1 series edge in their previous meetings with Ventura, although Ventura won last year's contest 10-7.

Vike coach John Nicholas hopes his defensive unit will perform more consistently against Ventura than it did against San Jose city college.

"The defense looked real well at times against San Jose," Nicholas noted. "But at other times we'd have total breakdown."

Several times the Viking defensive backs fell allowing long pass plays, and on several other occasions penalties kept the Viking defense in trouble.

One of the turning points of the game occurred in the first quarter after West Valley had just tied the game up at 7-7 on a Roger Cantrell (Branham) two-yard burst off tackle and Steve Nishijima's (Westmont) extra point kick.

A 75 yard bomb from quarterback Rick Mallman (Prospect) to big tightend John Baggerly (Los Gatos) set-up the Viking score.

The Vikings then held the Jaguars on their next possession and forced them to punt. But West Valley was nailed for a roughing the punter penalty, giving the Jags the ball back and keeping alive a drive.

San Jose then erupted for 27 points in the second quarter and took a 34-7 lead into the lockerroom at halftime.

West Valley recorded a moral victory in the second half by outscoring the Jaguars 21-19.

Mallman climaxed an 80 yard march at the beginning of the third period by running a keeper in from 12 yards out. Nishijima again added the PAT, as he did on all four WVC scores.

Mallman also had a hand in the Vike's final two scores of the night, hooking up with rapidly improving wide receiver Dave Johnstone (Prospect) for a pair of TD bombs.

Mallman and Johnstone combined for TD serials of 20 and 37 yards in the final two periods. It was the third time in the Vike's first two games that the duo had hooked up for touchdowns.

Mallman accounted for almost all of the Jaguars offense, throwing for 284 yards while completing 15 of 33 passes. But Mallman was also sacked by the Jaguar's defensive line 11 times resulting in 101 yards lost.

Out to snap Donohue's win streak / Laguna Seca's Can-Am

Can anyone snap Mark Donohue's winning streak of four successive Can-Am races? This question, being asked around raceway pits these days, has centered on Laguna Seca, home of the Monterey-Castrol GTX Grand Prix to be held October 12-14.

The odds favor that favorite of all streak breakers—1972 Can-Am champion George Follmer. Follmer's entry along with that of his Rinzler-Royal Crown teammate Charlie Kemp was received this week in the Laguna Seca offices in Monterey. Follmer is currently holding down the number two spot in the Can-Am standings and Kemp won the season's opener at Canada's Mosport Park in June.

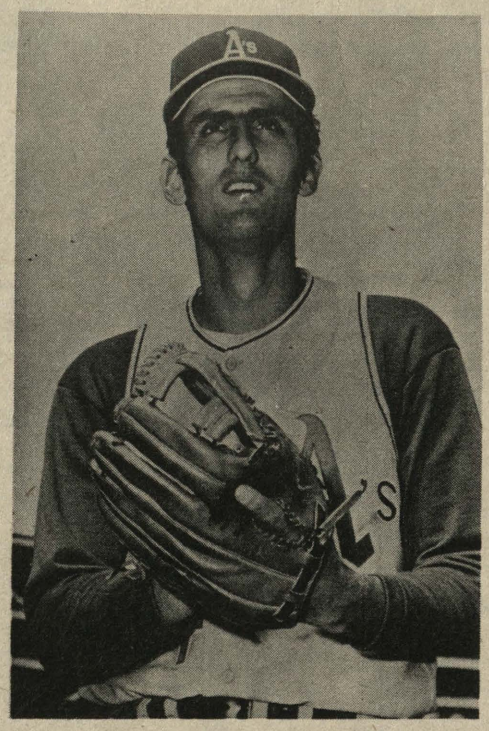
Another notable who could snap the streak and keep Donohue from clinching the championship which eluded him last year is Mario Andretti, Indy winner and Ferrari Formula I driver who'll drive the Commander Motorhome McLaren Turbocharged Chevy. Three stars from Europe's equivalent of the Can-Am, the Interserie, Kaye Griffith, David Hepworth and Willie Kauhsen will try their luck during Laguna's Can-Am. Griffith and Hepworth will be making their first appearance in the Can-Am. Kauhsen will be back from last year's Can-Am series where he made spectacular drives in the last two races of the season.

Also out to upset the Penske Team effort will be Formula I star Wilson Fittipaldi and Jackie Oliver who took a convincing third place at last week's Can-Am race at Edmonton Speedway in Canada in the rapidly developing turbo-charged UOP Shadow. A USAC driver may be called upon to drive the No. 2 shadow and a second turbocharged Porsche will be entered by one of the world's renowned Can-Am racing teams. Englishman David Hobbs will be around to brighten the scene in the Carling Black Label McLaren.

The race format for the Can-Am at Laguna Seca will include a 75-mile sprint race and the 125-mile championship points feature race. Also included in the weekend's activities will be four Sports Car Club of America regional races and a professional Super Vee race for the race for the VW Gold Cup.

The big mystery of Laguna Seca's Can-Am weekend remains whether or not Roger Penske will decide to enter the second car that has been sitting idle in his van all season. If the aid of a second car and driver is needed to help Donohue clinch the championship at Laguna Seca it is felt by many that the Penski Team will come up with a guest driver. Laguna Seca was good luck last year for Penski in that George Follmer clinched the title for him here.

Tickets for Laguna Seca's Can-Am weekend will go on sale this week at outlets throughout California including Ticketron, Macy's, Sears and Roos Atkins. Parking and children under 12 are free. Camping is available adjacent to track.



ROLLIE FINGERS
OAKLAND A'S
Pitcher . . . bats right, throws right

. . . One of the real heroes in last year's World Series victory was relief ace Rollie Fingers. Fingers tied a World Series record by appearing in six games. In the 10.1 innings he pitched he allowed just two earned runs for a 1.74 earned run average. He struck out 10 and saved two games. He was credited with the win in the A's fourth game victory. Considered by many to be one of the top relievers in the game today, Fingers saved 21 games last year and won an additional 11. He had a 2.51 ERA and struck out 113 batters in 111 innings. He led the A's staff in appearances with 65. Last year's 11-9 record was his first winning season in the majors. 1972 RECORD - OAKLAND: G, 65; IP, 111; W, 11; L, 9; Pct., .550; SO, 113; BB, 33; H, 85; ERA, 2.51.

Fourth quarter Mustang TD proves costly / Ground control effort wasted by Warriors

A brilliant display of ground control football was wasted by the Westmont Warriors last Saturday afternoon when they lost their 1973 opener to Pioneer 21-14.

The Warriors were devastating on the ground, ripping through the Mustang's defense for 257 yards. And through three periods of play that was enough to give Westmont a 14-13 lead.

But Pioneer scored an unanswered touchdown in the final stanza to nullify Westmont's fine running day. And once forced to the air the Warriors were able to gain just 16 yards.

Westmont featured a brilliantly balanced running attack with four runners ending up with 40 or more yards on the afternoon.

Bert Codera was the Warrior's leading ground gainer, picking up 84 yards on just seven carries, including a 52 yard bolt in the second quarter that set-up the Warrior's second touchdown of the afternoon.

Leading just 8-6 at the time, Codera's dash set up a four yard paydirt plunge by Tim Hart, upping the Warrior's lead to 14-6 at the time.

The Warriors had first scored in the opening period when Mark Browning climaxed a sustained 70 yard match by bulling his way over from the one. Quarterback Tom Papa added the two point conversion on a bootleg.

Browning ended the day with 59 yards on seven carries. The other two top Westmont ball carriers on the day were Pat Owens, 65 yards on six rushes, and Jerry Porter, 44 yards on seven totes.

Opening up the holes for the Warrior runners to scoot through all day were center Sheldon Henderson, guard Byron Nobrija and tackle Tom Espinosa.

The Warrior's defense is what disappointed head coach Don Stagnero the most, however. "We didn't look very good," he said. "That's where we had our breakdown."

Westmont opens their regular West Valley athletic league season Friday at home against Campbell, 20-0 winners over Homestead last Saturday night, in a 3:30 p.m. contest.

Panthers dropped by tough Vikings

/ Stats don't tell story

By DICK SPARRER
Sports Editor

To look at the final total offense statistics, it would seem that the Prospect Panthers had a close game with the Lynbrook Vikings when the two met at Cupertino high last Friday for a non-league test. But don't get fooled by statistics.

Even though they lost the yardage duel by just 30 yards, Prospect fell to the mighty Vikings 34-12.

But it wasn't as bad as the score would tend to indicate. The Panthers had trouble holding onto the football in crucial situations and key turnovers, and a broken play that went for a 79 touchdown scamper, helped Lynbrook to victory.

The Panthers will try to forget the nightmare turnovers that got them into trouble last week when they hit the trail Friday to meet Blackford at 3:30 p.m. at the Brave's field.

Blackford lost their opener a week earlier 14-7 to Pioneer, picked as a possible Santa Teresa athletic league front runner in 1973. The game will be the West Valley league opener for both the Panthers and Braves.

Prospect put together a balanced attack against Lynbrook, gaining 161 yards through the air and 122 on the ground. They stopped the Vikes with only 27 pass yards but the Lynbrook turf attack netted an awesome 286 yards.

Lynbrook gave an indication of how the breaks might fall on the night as early as their first possession.

On their third play from scrimmage, quarterback Mike Montagne could find no one to give the ball to so he tucked it in and scampered 79 yards to the endzone. They passed from a shot gun formation for the two pointer and led 8-0 with just 1:20 gone.

Prospect came right back. Scott Feldman returned the kick-off 19 yards to the 33 and sparked a Panther drive that took them all the way to the Lynbrook 11. Feldman gained 29 yards to spearhead the drive but it stalled when qb Brad Gunthier was hit for a four yard loss and tossed a fourth down incompletion.

It looked like the Panthers got a break when John Morris stole the ball from Lynbrook at the 34 but three plays later Gunthier tossed an interception.

Jim Medefesser stopped a Lynbrook drive at the Prospect 19 when he covered a fumble but the Panthers couldn't convert a first down.

After each team had punted once following the fumble, Prospect was forced to punt again. But Jay Potts' boot was blocked and Lynbrook took over on the Panther nine. Three plays and a penalty later they scored and added the two-pointer to make it 14-0 with just 1:33 left in the half.

Prospect went to the air to get their first score of the night a minute later. Jeff Freitas returned the kick-off 21 yards to the Prospect 41. Gunthier passed to Mike Ashman for 20 yards and to Freitas for six more.

A penalty took the ball to the 28 and Gunthier ran for six more down to the 22. The qb went to Greg Silva for the final 22 and the td with just 0:31 remaining. The kick failed.

Lynbrook took advantage of a Prospect fumble on the first play of the second half on the Panther side of the 50. Eight plays later they threw for a touchdown to lead 22-6. Ross McCannon slugged the ball off the hand of the qb when he tried to pass for two.

But the Panthers never gave up. John Stewart and Kent Knutson each hit Vikings for losses to force a turnover at their own 29. Freitas burst for 13 and Feldman got two. Then Gunthier hit Ashman on a little down and in the receiver put a fine move on the corner back to bust the play 56 yards for a score.

The Prospect defense held again but the offense turned the ball over again when Gunthier fumbled on the Panther 14. It took the Vikes just two plays to score. Glen Holz blocked down the PAT pass.

With their backs to the wall Prospect valiantly battled back. Ashman returned the kick to the 32 and Potts tossed to Dave Watts for 14. But they ran out of downs and a penalty sent them backwards to give Lynbrook possession at the 38.

The Vikes scored the game's final TD with less than four minutes left, gobbling up the 38 yards on two plays.

But even though they trailed by 22, the Panthers didn't get their heads down. They battled back with a last ditch drive that ended on the Viking 20 when the clock just ran out.

Big plays in that final drive were Watts' four carries for 35 yards and a Potts pass to Felman for 17 yards.

Feldman was the top ground getter in the game for the Panthers, gaining 48 yards on 10 tries. Watts got 35 and Freitas ran for 23 yards on seven tries. Gunthier was five for 10 through the air for 130 yards and two touchdowns. Ashman caught three of those aerials for 102 yards.

Defensive linemen McCannon and Bob Cante were tops on the Panther defensive unit. Holtz, Stewart, Mark Brownell, Knutson and Medefesser logged strong defensive efforts and Nick Bibich picked off a pass.

BIG GAINER — Prospect quarterback Brad Gunthier cocks to fire a pass in third quarter action last Friday night against Lynbrook. Gunthier completed this one for 26 yards to Mark Ashman and ended the night with 130 yards passing, completing five of 10. But Prospect fell 34-12.

Pre-season long for SJ

The football campaign is only two weeks old and already it's been a long season for the San Jose Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs were literally crushed by Awalt 41-0 last Friday night, marking the second straight week they have been shutout. The first week the Bulldogs were humbled 35-0 by Los Gatos.

And things don't figure to get better this week. San Jose travels to San Mateo Saturday for a 2 p.m. contest with Serra high school, an excellent football team.

"If we can make it through the pre-season we should be alright," Bulldog coach Bill Weiler said after his club's loss to Awalt.

"We're a very small team and both Los Gatos and Awalt were big," he added.

Weiler found few things to be pleased with in his club's recent loss except the continued fine play of tailback Dennis Davis.

"What ever yardage we make in a game he gets most of it," Weiler pointed out. Davis rolled up over 100 yards in rushes and pass receptions against Awalt.

Hosts to dominate in WVAL grid openers--STAL clubs unlucky

All but three West Valley athletic league football teams took time off from football activity last week but now must prepare to open their league season Friday with a full slate of loop games.

The feature game of the week will be Friday at 8 p.m. on the Los Gatos high school field but the Wildcats won't be one of the entries. Saratoga will play host to Camden in what could prove an early WVAL crucial.

Elsewhere, other WVAL teams will be involved in afternoon activity. Campbell will be at Westmont, Del Mar travels to Leigh, Prospect journey to Blackford and Branham hosts LG.

After picking six of seven winners in the first week of the 1973 season, the SUNPRESS predictors are confident going into the WVAL openers (this story was written before last weekend's three WVAL games).

All but one of the home teams will win in action Friday. Ungracious hosts will include the Warriors, nipping the Bucs by six, the Longhorns, taking the Dons by 16, the Bruins, edging the Cats by three, and the Falcons, smacking the Cougars by eight. Prospect will break up the bid of hosts to win all games by cracking Blackford by six.

In Santa Teresa activity, seven more non-league games are on tap. Wilcox visits Pioneer Friday at 3 p.m. and will fall to the Mustangs by eight. Gilroy will take Hollister and Live Oak will lose to Pacific Grove in 8 p.m. home games.

Lincoln could run into trouble when they host Mt. View Friday at 3:30 p.m. and will be turned back by six.

Leland and San Jose will have to wait at least another week to post their first wins of 1973. The Chargers will visit a tough Cupertino squad and should fall by a close six. The Bulldogs journey to Burlingame to meet Serra and will lose by 12.

In the only other game, Homestead should stop a tough Willow Glen squad at Diesner field by seven. Game time for that one is 8 p.m.

C-M pony meeting

Nomination and election of officers will feature Wednesday's meeting of the Campbell-Moreland pony-colt league at 7:30 p.m. at the Rincon field clubhouse. All interested parties, including parents of boys who plan to participate in the program next season, are invited to attend.
